Oligodynamic Advance Technology

Our facility is equipped with advanced tritulasi technology, a unique process that refines active ingredients into ultra-fine particles at the micro level (1×10^{-3} or 1×10^{-6}). This dynamic energy transformation enables faster absorption into the body, supporting smoother metabolism, improved biochemical and physiological functions, while also aiding in detoxification and reducing harmful side effects. By integrating this innovative technology into our production, we ensure every product manufactured is enhanced with superior bioavailability and efficacy, giving our partners a competitive edge in the health supplement market.
